TO ASK PLEDGES OF PRESIDENT

Railroads Want Guarantee of Compensation For Loss.

REPLY OF COMMITTEE.

Promise of Legislation to Enforce Arbitration in Future Among Terms Proposed.

Washington, Aug. 22. — The subcommittee of the railway executives appointed as a board of strategy to frame a reply to President Wilson's demand for concessions to the men that will prevent a general strike have made a tentative report. It is understood they have recommended the granting of the 8-hour day, but with a string to it.

The purpose of the string, it is said, is to make possible a withdrawal of the concession if the President does not give satisfactory guarantees of much-desired new legislation.

The announcement of the preliminary report followed within a few hours after a Cabinet meeting at which President Wilson's attitude on the controversy was given unanimous aproval by his official family.

The subcommittee represents the threescore railroad executives who answered the President's call to come to Washington. Its members are closely affiliated with many of the greatest financial institutions in the country. Yesterday's proceedings, which were continuous for 10 hours, were frequently interrupted by conferences over the long-distance telephone.

The executives as a body of the whole received the report in secret session last night. The belligerent element represented chiefly by the Western railroads, are said to have recognized the futility of holding out against the President much longer.

It was admitted the principal hope now is to to commit the President and the Government to definite asurances providing two things;

1. Legislation which will prevent a recurrence of a similar crisis before all the processes of a judicial investigation have been exhausted.

2. A practical guarantee that the railroads will be compensated for the money loss they claim they will sustain by granting an eight-hour day.

It is understood the plan is to ask the President to urge Congress to other to make a special study of the vetigate future wage difficulties; the present dispute and determine the amount of the increased expense the new arrangement will oppose.

On the report of a commission such as the last named, relief would be expected from the Interstate Commerce Commission in permanently increased freight rates.

The new report also suggests as an alternative that the President agree to release from an eight-hour agreement, if such is reached, the railroads on which it can be shown that the short-day arrangement is impracticable.

If the suggestions contined the tentative plan are approved by the execreate two commissions — one to incutives, delegates will be appointed to confer with the President today and report back in order that the compromise proposal may be formally made.

This is the railroads' side of the controversy. Persons close to the White House indicate that the President is not in a frame of mind to make concessions. The approval given his proposals by the Cabinet are said to have strengthened his determination to remain firm for the 8-hour-day plan without entangling qualifications. The President has received assurances from many quarters that the public, which he yesterday referred to as the "great American jury," is on his side of the argument.

The railroad executives have also endeavored to arouse sympathy from the public. One result was a flood of telegrams from agricultural and commercial organizations from all parts of the country, but chiefly from the West. The majority of these messages protested against the 8-hour day as proposed by the brotherhoods and urged by President Wilson.

It was learned last night that the tentative report warned the executives that granting the 8-hour day to only a minority of the railroad employes in the country was almost certain to be a cause of future trouble. It was declared President Wilson's proposal would benefit only 300,000 men out of 2,000,000 employed by the railroads, and that those not included would be certain to start trouble.

BRITONS AGAIN ADVANCE LINES

Claim Gain of Another Hundred Yards of German Trenches.

FRENCH ARE NOT IDLE

Take Positions From Enemy While Aerial Squadrons Drop Showers of Bombs Upon Them.

London, Aug. 23.— The British have made a further advance between Martinpuich and Bazentin, where they captured 100 yards of German trenches, says a War Office statement.

British troops on the Somme front have advanced along a line a half-mile long in the region of Pozieres, and have made an advance near the Leipsic salient, it was officially announced yesterday. The Germans are stubbornly clinging to their hold on Guillemont, although sustaining heavy casualties as the result of the British artillery fire on the place, says the official statement.

Paris, Aug. 23. — Progress was made by the French Monday night on the Somme front north of the river in the outskirts of Clery, the War Office announced today. South of the river the French captured trenches near Estrees and Soyecourt.

The situation on the French front is unchanged, says an official statembent.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—Heavy attacks by both the British and French on the Somme front have been repulsed by German troops, the War Office announces. The British attacked between Thiepval and Pozieres and only succeeded in capturing one advanced silent. South of the Somme trenches lost to the French in an attack were recaptured by a German counter-attack."

Concerning the report that many shoe factories in the northern states may be forced to close down on account of a possible shortage of leather, it will be gratifying to the citizens of Alexandria to learn that the Paff Shoe Company of this city does not anticipate that it will be affected by it. A representative of the Gazette interviewed an official of the concern to-day and was informed that it had sufficient stock on hand for six months in advance and thought no difficulty would be experienced in securing all necessary supplies. The firm reports a very satisfactory condition of business, with all the orders it can take care of. A possible advance in the price of some grades of shoes may have to be made, owing to increased cost of stock, however. In certain lines the advance may reach as high as 40 per cent.

LITTLE BOY DROWNED

Body of George, Seven-Year-Old Son of Guy Duty, Found Floating in the River.

The parents of George Duty, seven years old, residing at 1106 Prince streets, became anxious concerning his whereabouts early last night. He had been last seen by his father shortly before noon, when he brought him his dinner at the plant of the American Food Product Company, on Henry street extended. It was reported that he had been seen later at King and Royal streets, also on one of the wharves, also at Roberts' Mill, adjoining the city on the southwest, where boys resort to swim. Every member of the police force vied with the parents of the child to-day in attempts to locate him. Every suggestion concerning his whereabouts proved to be a cold trail, and the little fellow's mysterious disappearance was not explained until about half past one o'clock, this afternoon, when his body was found floating in the river near the Bryant Fertilizer plant. No one saw him fall overboard, and the circumstances in connection with the drowning are a mystery. The unfortunate boy was a son of Guy Duty.

A number of senators who visited President Wilson yesterday were told by him that if the immigration bill were passed again with the literacy test included he would veto it as he did when the measure was sent to him in the last Congress. This information, carried to the Senate where the fight was on to force action on the immigration bill, thereby displacing the revenue measure from its place as the unfinished business, was the chief faetor in driving five Democratic senators back into line.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PARADE

Turnout This Year Will Take Place on the Afternoon of September 17.

The success of Sunday school parades in Alexandria during the past two years has made this an annual event, and it may be safely stated that this feature has come to stay. The cortege last year made its march in October. This year, however, it will take place on September 17.

The teachers and scholars of the Alexandria Sunday schools are now turning their attention to this year's parade, and while the great mass of pupils with their teachers appeared in the procession last year, it is believed that the turnout next month will exceed in number those of former times.

The object this year is to bring all scholars and teachers. Occurring as it does during the third week of the Gypsy Smith revival services, the parade will take place at a time when the people of Alexandria will be contemplating spiritual matters, and the spirit which, it is believed, will be manifested will encourage those who give so much of their time and means to Sunday schools.

While the Sunday school of today may not be upon the actual lines laid out by Robert Raikes and other fathers of the system, the principles are the same, the object being to teach the Bible and get old and young interested in the book of books. The Sunday school is, in a sense, the nursery of the church, and to augment the usefulness of the former a substantial adjunct is organized for the spread of Christianity.

Events in the Balkans, following each other with dazzling rapidity, now threaten to drag two more nations, Roumania and Greece, into the maelstrom of the European war. The crisis has admittedly been reached in Bucharest, while Greece troops, by engaging the Bulgarians in a bloody battle in Greek Macedonia, may lead the Athens government to enter the arena even against its own desire.

Card of Thanks.

With sincere gratitude for the kindly spirit and cordial manner in which their friends made response, the Council of Jewish Women wish to express their thanks to all who so liberally asisted in making their excursion yesterday a success, and hope that all those who joined in the trip down the river enjoyed it as much as the Council wished them to. Again we say many thanks.

PREPARE FOR CAMPAIGN

Work of Clearing Ground For Erection of Tent For Revival Will Soon Commence.

Arrangements for Alexandria's evangelistic campaign which will begin Sunday evening, September 3, at 7:45 o'clock, when Gypsy Smith, Jr., of Haddon Heights, N. J., who will conduct the series of revivals until the end of September, will make his appearance, are nearing completion. Work will be started in a few days in clearing the ground back of the Second Baptist Church, between West and Peyton streets, on King, where the meetings will be held, and on the erection of the gospel tent, which will accommodate the audiences and which has a seating capacity of 2,000.

Last night in the Methodist Protestant church the general committee of arangements held a meeting and appointed a committee of six to attend to all the minor details connected with the revivals. This committee is composed of William H. Melchoir,president of the Laymen's League; John W. Herndon, general secretary of the general committee of arrangements; J. H. Trimyer, chairman of the executive committee; Samuel W. Pitts, chairman of the finance committee; Rev. E. T. Kirkley, chairman of the ministerial committee; and Judge Louis C. Barley, member-at-large.

In the Second Baptist Church next Tuesday night the various church choirs of the city that will furnish the musical element for the revivals will hold a joint meeting for practice of the gospel hymns.

The gospel of preparedness being preached now in the halls of Congress, on sea and on land, has it seems awakened parents to the need of military training of their sons, as is witnessed by the fact that the Virginia Military Institute will be filled to its capacity when it opens its next session on September 7. Information received is to the effect that 167 new cadets have been accepted and that 223 old students are enrolled, making the present total 390. Other applicants to date number 133. From this number the institute will accept ten, making the total for the coming session 400. This is the school's capacity and no more can be received.

Notice.

I have cancelled my engagement with the Hopkins Furniture Company and after August 24, will be with the well known and popular firm of Julius Wolf, clothing, boots, shoes, dry goods, Ladies' and Gents' Furnishings, 423 King street, and solicit a liberal share of the patronage of my friends and the general public.

MACKENSEN IS IN THE BALKANS

German Field Marshal Sent to Aid in Stemming Entente.

RUSS HOLDS STOKHOD.

Allies About Ready to Launch Great Offensive in the Saloniki Neighborhood

London, Aug. 22.—Field Marshal von Mackensen has been sent from Volhynia to direct the operations of the forces of the Central Powers and Bulgaria in the big combat in the Balkans, according to a dispatch from Athens, which announces that the occupation of Kastoria and Corytso by Bulgarian troop has been confirmed.

From another Athens dispatch, which had been held up by the censors since July 31, it was learned yesterday that Russian troops have joined the forces of the Entente Allies in the Balkans.

From Athens dispatches also it is learned that Greek troops have been attacking the Bulgarians in the vicinit yof Serres since Sunday and that the fighting is becoming more genral, being Saloniki, on the left bank of the Struma river. On the section of this front between the Buthkova and Takimos lake, the French forces have been driven over the Struma, according to an announcement issued by the German War Office. Last night the French War Office announces that the Allies have captured a series of heights west of the Vardar river on the Saloniki front, but says that on both wings advance detachments have fallen back before the counter-offensive of the Bulgarians.

While Austro-German forces are holding in check Russians attempting to advance west of the Stokhod River in Volhynia, according to a nofficial announcement from Berlin, further advances by the armies of the Entente Allies in France are announced by the British and French War Offices.

Following an announcement earlier in the day that Brfitish troops on the Somme front had advanced along a line a mile and a half long in the region of Pozieres, and had also made an advance near the Leipsic salient, the British War Office announces tonight a further advance between Martinpuich and Bazentin. In the latter drive the British captured 100 yards of German trenches, the official announcement says.

Yesterday's official announcement on war operations issued by the Italian Headquarters Staff says:

"The activity of the artillery on each side is being directed to interfere with the work of consolidation still going on.

"Yesterday enemy batteries hit the hospital in Gorizia, wounding some of the medical staff."

The Russian Army of the Caucasus has gained further ground from the Turks, occupying a considerable territory west of Lake Van, in Armenia, the War Office at Petrograd announced today. On the main battle front in Russia and Galicia, the statement says there is no change.

JOHN REDMOND IS ENDORSED

Hibernians of Virginia Reaffirm Confidence in Leader.

CAUSTIC RESOLUTION.

Convention Scores Slanderous Accusations From Men High in the National Order.

Richmond, Aug. 23— Resolutions expressing the confidence of the Virginia members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the home-rule policy of John Redmond, the Irish leader, and condemning the opposite sympathies of the national heads of the order were adopted yesterday at the concluding session of the convention in McGill Catholic Union. State President John J. Blake, on behalf of the convention, sent a commendatory cablegram to Mr. Redmond.

The action of the Virginia convention is in direct contradiction to that taken at the national convention of the order held last month in Boston. At that time the more radical element in Irish politics, opposing the participation of Irishmen in the present war on behalf of Great Britain and sympathizing with the Dublin revolt of last spring, received the approval of the American Hibernians. The Virginia delegation at the Boston convention opposed such action.

The Virginia branch yesterday placed itself squarely in opposition to the national leaders of the Ancient Order of Hibernians with the adoption of a resolution declaring that "the proper course for Irishmen and the descendants of Irishmen who have become ctiizens of the United States to testify their interest in the mother land is by upholding the hands of the chosen representatives of the Irish race at home, and that officious intermeddling can only result in disaster to the cause that is so dear to the hearts of true Irishmen the world over. It is with profound regret that slanderous and liberous accusations emanating from men of our race against John Redmond and the chosen leaders of the Irish people have from time to time reached our ears. Such utterances we cannot but regard as traitorous to the Irish cause, and the injury which is wrought is in proportion to the official prominence of those from whom they emanate."

The committee on resolutions was composed of Charles A. McHugh, James J. Creamer, Thomas O'Connor, B. J. O'Hara, M. J. McFarland, William E. Doherty and George H. Carvil.

In accordance with the resolutions, President Blake sent yesterday afternoon the following cablegram to Mr. Redmond:

"Ancient Order Hibernians of Virginia, in convention assembled, reaffirm their unswerving confidence in your able and patriotic efforts in the cause of Ireland."

Officers were elected as follows:

President, Thomas O'Connor, Roanoke.

Vice-President, M. J. McFarland, Alexandria.

Secretary, J. F. Hazel, Roanokek.k

Treasurer, W. E. Doherty, Norfolk.

State Chaplain, Rev. Father Charles Donahoe, Portsmouth.

Reports of committees were submitted.

The next State convention will meet in Lynchburg in 1918.

Officers elected by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at its final meeting yesterday were: Mrs. John W. O'Connor, of Richmond, president; Miss Catherine Mallen, of Lynchburg, vice-president; Miss Agnes Quinn, of Roanoke, secretary; Miss Nellie McErnarn, of Newport News, treasurer; Mrs. John J. Williams, of Richmond, State chairman of Irish history; Mrs. Eleanor Shanks, of Roanoke, mistress-at-arms; Mrs. William J. O'Connor, of Clifton Forge, sentinel.

The final feature of the convention program was the theater party last night at the Lyric. More than 100 delegates were present, about equally divided between the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary.

HOW SOLDIERS CAN VOTE

Alexandrians on the Border Can Send Their Ballots to This City by Mail.

The possibility of the absence from Alexandria of the members of the has Light Infantry, now encamped at Brownsville, Texas, on election day, has caused considerable speculation as to whether or not the voters, who are now in the United States service, will be allowed to exercise their right of suffrage in the presidential election.

It is pointed out that the qualified voters in the companies will be able to vote by mail if they make proper arrangements in time, should the government decide to keep the troops stationed on the border until after election. To be able to vote by mail, the soldiers will be required to notify the registrars in their respective precincts thirty days prior to the election. Ballots will be prepared by the electoral board and furnished to the registrar in sealed envelopes and the registrars will forward them with instructions to the voters.

The ballots will be opened in the presence of either the postmaster at Brownsville or the commanding officers of each company and at the same time will be filled out and sealed ready to be forwarded to the registrars. Upon receipt of the ballots the registrars will turn them over to the judges of the election on election day to be deposited in the boxes with the other ballots.

GETS PEEP OF HEAVEN

Evangelist Gibson Delivers Address on Scenes Around the Throne Eternal.

"A Vision of God's Throne," was the subject of the discourse delivered at the gospel tent last night by Evangelist F. E. Gibson.

The Elder said in part—"That God the Father has His throne in the third heaven or the paradise of God, and that his kingdom ruleth over the whole universe." As the Psalmist David says—"The Lord is in his holy temple, the Lord's throne is in heaven."

The prophet John was taken to heaven in visio nand had the privilege of seeing God's throne—Jesue said to him, "Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter." He saw God sitting upon His throne," and he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone; and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. And round about the throne were four and twenty seats; and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold." These elders spoken of are representatives of the different nations of this earth, who have been purified through the blood of the lamb. These were taken to heaven with Christ when he ascended up on high, when a cloud received him him out of their sight, when two men stood by the disciples in white apparel; which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven," Were those who came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many, went up with Christ, into heaven. These four and twenty are assistants around God's throne, helping him in governing this world of ours. Then John saw the four beasts, or as other translations read four living creatures which were redeemed from the earth. These no doubt are four of the leading prophets of God's people who have been redeemed and taken to heaven, through the blood of the Lamb. "They rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God almighty, which was, and is, and is to come." The four and twenty elders also wor[illegible] God—saying, "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and hon[illegible] and power; for thou has created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

The fifth chapter of Revelation tells us about a book written within and sealed with seven seals, and no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book neither to look thereon."

John then wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to read the book, neither to l[illegible]: to read the book, neither to look thereon." But one of the elders said to the prophet John, "Weep not; behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals there of." We should thank God for the Christ which he gave us, who has all wisdom and complete sight, so that he has opened the seals and made us to understad these wonderful truths contained in the Revelation. John also saw the number of Angels around the throne of God, which was an innumerable company of Angels.

SOUNDING AUTO HORNS

Much Unnecessary Blowing, But Often Alarms Are Not Heard When Needed.

Complaint is often made that persons operating automobiles in this city neglect to sound their horns when approaching street intersections, and often careful pedestrians find machines in close proximity to them, they having noiselessly overtaken them. On the other hand, joy riders and others often sound their horns unnecessarily, sending forth incessant blastsas they pass through the streets when nothing is in their way.

The people of Richmond are taking exceptions to the actions of some of the autoists of that city in making day and night hideous by continuous blasts as they pass through the streets Richmond papers says:

"It is about time for the Mayor and Chief of Police to revise the Police Department's ruling as to automobile horns, for the sake of the city's peace and quiet. Every variety of siren, moan, screech, howl and scream that mechanical ingenuity can contrive and human inconsiderateness produce is heard all over the city at all hours of the day and night, and no effort is made by the police to put an end to, or even control, the nuisance."

COLLECTS STATUTE LAWS.

Mr. Lewis Machen, Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, announces that he has just completed a collection of the statute laws in force in all the States and in Alaska, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines. These codes and acts will be kept up to date and used by the Bureau in compiling bulletins prepared by the Bureau between sessions of the legislature and in drafting bills for the members when they are in session.

Mr. Machen says that any citizen may learn the statute law of any state by writing or seeing him at the Capitol in Richmond.

WHY NOT?

Alexandria possesses natural advantages of which any city might well feel proud. Fortunately located, with splendid shipping facilities, both rail and water, excellent schools and churches, a cultured and refined citizenship, a past rich in history and tradition, there is no good reason why this fine old Virginia town should not forge ahead and take a commanding position in the march of progress which every wide-a-wake city throughout the length and breadth of the land is making today.

No town can stand still. It must either go forward or backward, and it remains for the community as a whole to say which direction it shall take. What shall the answer be?

Loyalty to its historic past, as well as an earnest desire for its present and future prosperity, should inspire and prompt every resident to do all in his or her power to support whatever effort may be made to advance the city's interests, either morally or industrially.

In the opinion of the Gazette what Alexandria needs today more than anything else is a "Boosters Club" which shall include in its membership every citizen, great and small, and through which a broader spirit of progressive, community up-building may be fostered. In other words, a combined unity of action for the advancement of Alexandria in every legitimate manner possible.

United action in other cities has spelled success, and the same result may be realized here if our people will take advantage of the opportunity.

Is the motion seconded?

HUGHES'S IMPOTENCY.

The Boston Transcript, dyed-in-the-wool organ to unregenerate republicanism, descends to the lowest depths of asininity in saying "If Hughes had been President there would have been no Lusitania tragedy." As the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot says: That is on a par with the suggestion that had Roosevelt been President the neutrality of Belgium would not have been violated.

The ravishment of Belgium came upon the world as a bolt from the blue, unexpected, unheralded, unknown until in progress of accomplishment. It was casus belli to France and England, but their simultaneous protest did not avert it, and their combined armies did not suffice to arrest it. The imperial armies were already over the border before the United States government was advised that Germany was to take that route to Paris, treating as "a scrap of paper" the treaty which barred that path. To that treaty the United States was in no way a party. Col. Roosevelt wrote at the time that it was a matter of which the United States could take no official cognizance and he contributed to the public press an article outlining the course our government must follow, and it was exactly that which President Wilson did pursue, though the Colonel under pressure of political exigencies has since changed. When the invasion took place neither Roosevelt, Hughes nor the Trancript entertained an idea that the United States either could or should have attempted to stay the hand of Germany after it had fallen. It was no more our business than to have intervened against Austria in favor of Serbia. Our right to enforce the Monroe doctrine as to America is based and conditioned on abstention from interference in the International politics of Europe.

Now for the Lusitania affair. Would Mr. Hughes dare assert that President Wilson had any grounds on which to anticipate Germany's commission of such an act, or means of frustrating it other than he had already employed even had he known that such an atrocity was contemplated? His horn-blower. The Transcript, immediately subsequent to the occurrence described it as unexpected and unprecedented, and gave no hint that it could have been foreseen or could have been prevented by anything the United States might have said or done.

The advocates of Hughes, in the extremity of partizan zeal, are making him ridiculous. Is he a seer who can foretell events? Is he a magician who can divine by intuition the approach of a hidden thunderbolt and ward it off by a verbal demurrer or a wave of his hand? The people of America are not ninnys to be fooled by vague imaginings of what might, could or would have happened had Roosevelt or Hughes been President during the past two years. They know that those years have been of fiery trial and they know that Wilson has brought them through the furnace unscathed. They have peace and prosperity as solid grounds to stand on; and they will not be swift to exchange these blessings for vain imaginings and vaporous promises.

SOME POLICE COURT CASES

A woman was in the police court of Richmond this week charged with trespassing on a section in Oakwood cemetery, and with destroying flowers on a grave. It was brought out in the testimony that the gafirve enclosed the body of a woman, a sister of the accused, who died two years ago. It appears that the woman went over to the cemetery a few days ago and hired a man to cut the grass which had grown rather high over and around the grave. When he noted that there were a dozen or more geraniums hidden beneath the grass, he asked whether he should cut them, too. He was told to go ahead and do so. When the brother-in-law of the accused, who is proprietor of the lot, learned that the flowers had been cut down, he proceeded to have his sister-in-law haled into court. Both he and the woman persisted in asserting that there had been no previous ill-feeling between them. Justice Crutchfield very properly dismissed the charge against the woman.

This reminds us of a similar case which came before the late Justice Julius Pelton in Alexandria many years ago. This, too, was the outcome of a family jar. The father of a family had died previously, and his children were wont to place flowers upon his mound and keep it green, but, unfortunately, the best of feeling did not prevail among them. One of his offspring entered the enclosure one day and found a cheap vase in the family lot, which she removed, for some reason. The other members of the family became incensed at her act and swore out a warrant against the alleged offender, charging her with defacing property. Justice Pelton, though "with eyes severe and beard of formal cut," had a taste for the ridiculous, and asked another magistrate to sit with him in the investigation of such a momentous issue. After listening to the squabble for some time the judges retired for consultation, and subsequently dismissed the charge against the woman, assessing the cost against the complainants.

SENTENCED TO STAY HOME.

A maristrate in New York recently sentenced a young bridegroom to stay home nights unless his wife accompanied him when he was out after nine o'clock. He also ordered that the wife draw the pay envelope of the young man. The husband is 21 years old. His wife 20 years old, had him before the court on a charge of non-support. The young man earns $55 a month. The Court told the couple that it was essential they start their married life right, and it was evident they had not. He asked them to try again. He placed the husband on three months' probation and directed the wife to give her husband an allowance out of his money.

It is often noticed that during courtships some wooers are at the homes of their lady loves every night, Sundays not excepted. After having married, however, it is difficult to keep them in the house, especially at night. Young men lacking domestic taste generally make unsatisfactory husbands.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A British official announcement says it is believed that a German battleship of the Nassau class has been sunk by British submarine E-23.

Bills for investigation of a suitable site for a naval armor plant at or near Goshen or Bunea Vista, were introduced by Representative Flood of Virginia.

Mitchell Maynard, 22 years old, died yesterday in Bristol, from loss of blood. Both of his legs were mangled resulting from an effort to board a moving train at Gate City.

The execution of a woman as a spy is reported in a dispatch from Marseilles, Felice Pfaat was put to death yesterday morning, having been convicted of espionage by the council of war of the fifteenth region.

Mrs. Mary Cottrell, 85 years old, walked out of a rear window on the second floor of her home in Richmond, yesterday morning, receiving a fractured skull which caused her death.

Hogs sold for $11.30 per hundred pounds at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago yesterday, the highest price in the history of the market since the civil war. Dealers predict an advance to $12 a hundred in September.

Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding is in a serious condition, in Peoria, Ill., as the result of the heat and a general decline that began ten days ago. Members of his family and the attending physicians admit that they have fears for the outcome. The Bishop is 76 years old and very feeble.

After the House yesterday had repassed the $314,000,000 army appropriation bill without the revised articles of war, a feature of which caused President Wilson to veto the measure, it was hastened to the Senate, and there referred to the military committee.

C. L. Robertson, a boiler-maker, of the Norfolk and Western Railway, was killed instantly yesterday when he stepped in front of a moving train in the Norfolk and Western yards. Robertson stepped from behind a line of coal cars, and was hurled 60 feet, through the air. Two companions with him narrowly escaped the same fate, but cleared the rails barely in time to save their lives.

With more than 200 delegates and visitors present, the Association of American Cemetery Superintendents opened its annual convention at the Monticello Hotel, Norfolk, yesterday morning. The reports of the president and of the secretary-treasurer were the features of the morning session. Last night papers were read and discussed. The sessions will end tonight.

Five persons were killed and four injured, two critically, and all members of one family, last night when a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad struck the automobile occupied by J. Quillen and family at Berlin, Md. The machine was smashed and the nine occupants hurled in every direction.

"Let Bryan take part in the campaign if he insists, but keep him out of New York and the East." This was the substance of the message sent to Democratic national headquarters in New York by President Wilson's friends in response to the offer of the former Secretary of State to take the stump for the President. Thus the big Bryan tour is to begin on September 15 and carry him through almost every state west of Pennsylvania.

Bread tickets and meatless days each week for England were recommended by Winston Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, in the British house of commons yesterday. This recommendation was coupled with a prediction that the war would last for many months more. "The German armies are more numerous and better equipped than ever," said Mr. Churchill.

Charles E. Hughes left California last night without having met Gov. Johnson. Every effort to bring about a meeting between the two proved futile. In political circles the failure of the two to meet is regarded as ominous, particularly in view of the fact that Chester Rowell, Progressive member of the Republican national campaign committee, pointedly absent. himself today from a meeting which Hughes addressed at Fresno, Rowell's home. Progressives had declared that a meeting between Johnson and Hughes was essential to satisfy the demands of the California Progressives for recognition.

Roman Catholics of the United States were urged to organize and make their influence more strongly felt in national politics, at a mass meeting of the German Catholic Central Verein at Cooper Union, New York, last night, by James E. Zipp, of St. Louis. "Among other things the speaker said: "We have now in America some 16,000,000 Catholics. That means at least 3,000,000 voters. That is almost as many votes as the Republican party polled at the last general election. That very number places in our hands a power to be used in works of civic betterment, in works of mercy and of peace. When the Catholic army is uplifted, let it be for construction, and never for destruction."

Maj. Baird, representative of the aerial board in the British House of Commons, in the house last night announced that since the war began the allies have accounted for 85 Zeppelins.

A request for the co-operation of the Federal Trade Commission in an investigation of conditions in the furniture trade is being considered by the National Association of Chair Manufacturers, which is holding a meeting in Atlantic City, N. J. Scarcity of labor in the face of an increase of 20 per cent in business during the last year has made the workers careless of their jobs and inefficient in their work, the manufacturers declare.

German propagandists inspired and spread reports of the acquisition, through secret agents, of land for a naval base on the Atlantic seaboard of Panama. Hobutaro Kawashima, third secretary of the Japanese Embassy, yesterday issued an emphatic denial, on behalf of his government, of the sensational charges of Japanese aggression on the isthmus.

The Paris Intransigeant publishes a dispatch from Lausanne to the effect that Germany has ordered all youths of 17 to report immediately to recruiting bureaus. This class in normal years would be called to the colors in 1919.

Eight persons were killed and a number of others are reported missing at the result of an explosion Monday at the plant of the Harlan Morris Stave Manufacturing Company, at Jackson, Tenn. Three boilers gave way and the shock was felt throughout the city. More than 75 men were employed by the company, and it was said if the explosion had occurred an hour later the loss of life would have been heavy.

FORCED TO LET WIFE DROP.

Husband Clung to Heels As She Hung From Window.

Baltimore, Aug. 23.—For nearly five minutes Monday night George R. Perina clung to his wife's feet as she hung fom the window of their apartment, on the second floor of 311 North Greene street.

In a state of wild insanity for the past two weekks, probably aggravated by the heat, she had flung herself out.

Mrs. Margaret Perina, the wife, is heavy. There was no immediate answer to the husband's cries for help, and she was twisting and struggling, head downward. He dropped her, and she landed on her head in the back yard.

Neighbors reached the yard and looked up at the Perinas' apartments in time to see Mrs. Perina drop. Policemen who arrived in the Western patrol wagon found her just regaining consciousness. At University Hospital her skull was found to be fractured, she had a deep gash on her head and was badly bruised. Dr. C. C. Hoke, who attended her, thinks she will recover.

Perina said he had tried to place his wife in Mercy Hospital for treatment, but her mental condition barred her. He suggested last night that they take a walk, and she, promising to get ready, suddenly screamed and rushed to the open window. He only had time to seize her by the feet.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

Aubrey Adams was killed Sunday at his home near Bloomfield, near Purcellville, Va., by a bull. He was attempting to change the animal from one field to another when the beast charged him. Mr. Adams was knocked down and every bone in his body broken. Mr. Adams was 40 years old and is survived by his widow and three children.

The worst storm in years in Wythe county prevailed yesterday afternoon. All streams were higher than ever known and much property was destroyed. An inch of rain fell in 10 minutes. Several residences in Wytheville and several barns near town were struck by lightning, one barn being burned, but no lives were lost.

St. Luke's hospital in Richmond was struck by lightning in Monday night's severe storm. The bolt hit one of the galvanized iron ornaments on the cornice of the building, knocking it off. It found its way to the ground by way of water pipes and wires, all of which it burned out and melted. None of the patients of the hospital was injured, although several were badly frightened.

At a meeting of health officers and physicians yesterday in Richmond on the call of State Health Commissioner Ennion G. Williams, a resolution was adopted declaring Virginia to be in a state of quarantine against all areas infected with infantile paralysis, effective at noon, August 25. It is proposed to place guards along the state border where automobile roads enter from other states and to enforce rigidly the quarantine at all Virginia ports.

Capt. Olsen, of the Norwegian steamer Alf, which arrived yesterday at Newport News, says that on Aug. 6 he passed the German merchant submarine Deutschland, proceeding at a very moderate rate of speed in an east and southeasterly direction. Seeing the craft low in the water, with masts both fore and aft, but with no sails set, Capt. Olsen thought she was a sailing ship in distress. When he started towards her she submerged but soon rose to the surface again. The submarine was in the regular steamer track south of Cape Race.

State Auditor Lee Moore has received a letter from a Presbyterian minister severely arraigning the discrimination against ministers of that denomination and others in the state in favor of Methodists and Catholics, as he declares. It seems that the Presbyterian minister owns his home or certainly the furniture therein, and he objects to paying taxes on it. Methodists and Catholics have homes for the benefit of their ministers, all fully furnished, and as they are used for church purposes they are not taxed. Mr. Moore has referred the letter to the attorney general for construction of the law.

Brstol was selected as Democatic campaign headquarters at a conference between E. Lee Trinkle, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Ninth district, and District County Chairman Frank B. Caldwell will have charge here. Mr. Trinkle will maintain an office in Wytheville, while Frank Wysor, the district secretary, will direct the work from Pulaski. The date for opening the campaign will be announced as soon as desired speakers are heard from. Trinkle is going in to win, if possible, and has the party leaders united behind him. That he will be opposed by Representative C. B. Slemp is regarded as certain. The Republicans will nominate in a convention to be held in Bristol Tuesday.

Nine members of the chew of the Norwegian steamer Cossack, from New Orleans and Norfolk for Grangemouth, with a cargo of gasoline in drums, was lost in midocean, when the steamer, completely on fire, was abandoned on August 12.
